Chicago Grain.

Chicago, April 15.—There was a sharp turn in the course of the wheat market to-day and it was as weak as it was strong yesterday, but the weakness was more in July and September than in May, the last mentioned holding comparatively steady. The losses at the close of the session amounted to jee in May, 15e in July, and 15e in September.

Pardridge was suspected of having bought heavily of July to recoup his losses on May, and this brought on what appeared to be another fight against Pardridge. The price broke nearly 2c, and this, too, in the face of continued bad crop news and a legitimately stronger position than it had yesterday.

The clique found it impossible to dispose of any May, and no one else being inclined to sell it, it was comparatively neglected.
